The stem is decorated with two disks, a ball and again two disks it stands on a round foot with curved corners. The foot is ground with ovals and shows clouded triangles its ball-node is diamond faceted. The cup forms a shell its bottom is decorated with a row of eggs, surmounted by a finely ground and clouded picture: a castle with a sentry and a man walking towards it a house can be seen in the background. Between the two figures is a large tree. The longer sides of the cup are decorated with moulded flower petals. There are finely ground petals at the bottom juncture of the handle.
