Circular, moulded foot with a sloping foliated foot-band. Between the foot and the cylindrical body a motif of chain loops runs round. On its side is a rich decoration of flowers and foliage. The cover is fastened with a hinge, and has tulips on a wide, sloping band. On the projecting, foliated central part is a cast representation of a deer. The thumb-piece is three-pointed. The handle is semicircular, decorated with a disproportionately small herm. The presently unidentified master's mark and the known city mark are punched on the rim of the foot.
