The wavy, curved chest of three drawers stands on four protruding legs. Its folding desktop hides a sliding panel with secret drawers behind. There are drawers, compartments and a little door behind the closed panel. The upper part has one door it divides into three at the top and ends in a joint, profiled, arched and broken ridge. The arched inlay of the door is covered by a cut mirror. The inside of the cabinet hides shelves and drawers of various sizes. There is also a version with two doors in the collection of the Budapest Museum of Applied Arts (Inv. No. 59.1832) as well as in the Fondazione Querini Stamolia collection in Venice.
